

Ever wanted to go to the Oscars, walk up the stairs to collect the ultimate award?

Langley Interiors showroom provides just such an entrance, but this is only the beginning.

The Langley family has built a reputation for designing the most glamorous living spaces which not only look perfect – but are practical too.

From smooth glitter-specked surfaces to crystal lighting, the team at Langley will source exactly what you have in mind.

The firm designs and manufactures hand-finished bespoke furniture on site, using the very best materials – so you get exactly what you ask for – the room of your dreams.

A Langley living space is indeed what dreams are made of. The showroom is unique in that the luxury baths and showers are all working, clients can see and feel the textures of the materials be it a luxurious high-gloss finish on a wardrobe door or a smooth stretch of Versital – a product which has transformed the way bathrooms, are designed.

Versital is revolutionising the way clients think about bathrooms and shower areas as it is moulded individually into any shape, size and colour – meaning shower seats can be seamlessly moulded along with bespoke bath surrounds and basins. It imitates stone, marble or granite to give a high gloss, satin or textured finish – there is even a glitter range “Reflect” for a real ‘bling’ touch. And Versital is low maintenance too – a simple wipe down is all that is needed to keep it looking fresh.

Versital is tactile and looks fabulous, so much so that it was used to complete a project at the Roman baths in Bath - Versital “Royal Pavilion” was the best match to the original Roman marble.

The Langley experience is one not to be missed when planning your home. Whether it is a whole new look to a bedroom, bathroom, study or entertainment room or maximising storage space, Langley Interiors creates beautiful rooms and seeks out the very latest innovations in interior fixtures and fittings.

Designer Peter Langley is the man behind the innovative and original room designs – he views things from a different perspective and as a result clients are always thrilled with the end result.

No matter how small the room, he will maximise every inch of working space to come up with original ideas and drawings so you can see exactly what the finished product will look like. Drawings and plans are produced by hand; Peter believes that once he has built the project on paper it will come to life exactly as planned. He designs with passion and a belief that he can enhance any space in the home, borne out by the number of repeat clients and recommendations the business deals with every year. “It seems that once you have one Langley design installed in your home you want it in the whole house,” says Peter.

The team at Langley Interiors firmly believes that lighting is one of the most important elements of room planning and this is evident in the showroom, where customers can see how the right ambience can make a room. Lighting is used to magnificent effect – Langley accesses top quality fittings including the luxurious glittering Swarovski brand.

One of the key elements to this firm’s success is its versatility – the company provides a complete design service from the original drawings, to installation and accessories using the very best craftsmen, electricians, plumbers, joiners, soft furnishings and lighting experts.

“People put their trust in us,” says Debra Langley.

“We take care of everything from planning, plumbing and plastering to stunning design and décor.”

Clients also like that fact that Langley furniture is built to last and everything is sourced and manufactured in the UK.

“Customers are making a deliberate choice to support local businesses and while we move with the times and keep up with the trends, they like the fact that our production methods remain traditional,” says Debra.

From wetrooms to playrooms, bathroom and bedrooms, Langley Interiors will design for any space no matter how large or small. Their customers are impressed not only with the high quality of service, but with the practical difference a well-designed space makes to their lifestyle.

Moving with the times and keeping up with technology and trends, Langley Interiors predicts gadgets will continue to play a big part in living space design over the coming year.

It already incorporates TV’s in bath and shower areas along with technology to play your iPod wherever you go – turning bathrooms and en suites into relaxation rooms.

Other trends for 2009 will see big, bold and beautiful designs with oversizing where possible.

Big showers with large ‘rainfall’ shower heads will sit alongside comfort and splendour which are also key themes.

Lots of ‘bling’ will make a comeback with crystal taps and embellished mirrors and radiators now very much a feature.

Langley Interiors displays Bisque radiators and at the showroom in Bolton where Langley has been based since the 1960’s, there is a whole range of fabulous radiators which add a touch of glamour to any room. From shiny curvy hoops to brushed steel grids, these radiators are more like a work of art. They will change your perception of how a radiator looks – and where it can be sited in a room, becoming a feature rather than a mere practicality.

This family business has a real passion for designing amazing, quality living spaces which combine great craftsmanship with innovation. ■
